

Lidija Injac Stevović
Associate Professor, MD, PhD

Montenegro

She has graduated at Faculty of Medicine, University of Priština (1989), completed Psychiatry specialization (1997) and Bachelors studies (MSc., 2006) at School of Medicine, University of Belgrade (Serbia) and doctoral studies (PhD) on 2011 at the Faculty of Medicine, University of Montenegro in Podgorica.

She is Professor of Psychiatry and Head of the Department for Psychiatry at the Faculty of Medicine (University of Podgorica, Montenegro). She is lecturer in several faculties and schools in Montenegro (Faculty of Dentistry Podgorica, College for Health Science Berani, Departments for Psychology and Pedagogy (Faculty of Philosophy Nikšić), and Faculty for Political Science (Department for Social Work). She is psychiatrist at the Clinical Center of Montenegro as well as a mentor and coordinator for Psychiatry residence.

She is member of several psychiatric associations' (Psychiatric Association of Montenegro - President in two consequent terms, WPA, International APA member).

Primary research interests are Psychiatry clinical studies with main focus on mood disorders (depression and suicidology).

She published several professional and scientific papers in international and national scientific publications, participated and had active contribution as lecturer on many international and national congresses and symposia.