

Milan Stojaković

Professor, MD, PhD

Bosnia and Herzegovina

Born on 1963 in Tuzla (Bosnia and Herzegovina). He graduated from the Gymnasium in Banja Luka in 1982. Graduated in 1989 at the Medical Faculty, University of Banja Luka, and since then has been working at the Psychiatric Clinic of the University Clinical Center in Banja Luka.

A Full Professor of Psychiatry (Faculty of Medicine, University of Banja Luka), a psychiatrist, forensic psychiatrists, a member and President of the Assembly of the Psychiatric Association of Bosnia-Herzegovina, member of the the Chamber of Medical Doctors of Republic of Srpska, member of the EPA - European Psychiatric Association, member of the WPA-World Psychiatric Association, member of AMDA International - AMDA RS - an association of Japanese medicine practitioners in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Earlier, he performed the duties of Chief of Psychiatric Clinic Banja Luka, Head of Division for Special Psychiatric Activities, as well as Head of Department for Psychotic Disorders.

He is the author (and co-author) of many bibliographic units published in famous foreign and domestic journals. He is the author of the chapters of Forensic Psychiatry in the Textbook of Psychiatry - for students at the Faculty of Dentistry, University of Belgrade, and has 6 published books in the field of psychiatry. He is the Editor in Chief of the international journal Psymedica.